
Pasaulio universitetu reitingas

PaskelbÄ— kiemsargis - 2004.08.16 14:27

Turetu buti idomu tiems, kas renkasi kur studijuoti. Sia informacija neseniai gavau is vieno mano kolegos. Del objektyvumo nezinau, bet atrodo gana logiskai.

Ranking of the Universities is a popular tool to compare the quality of schools used in many countries. Typically, such studies are limited only to one or few countries, like the US News and World Reportâ€™s ranking of US colleges. In the present time of economic globalization the need for worldwide ranking has become quite acute. Researchers from the Institute of Higher Education at Shanghai Jiao Tong University in China came up with the first successful ranking of the top 500 Universities in the world, which was published last week (August 11, 2004, <http://ed.sjtu.edu.cn/rank/2004/2004Main.htm>) This highly acclaimed study has been nicknamed the "Fortune 500 Colleges". The researchers considered such criteria as the number of winners of prestigious prizes among alumni and faculty, number of research publications, citation impact of these publications, and performance-to-size ratio. These criteria were weighted in a way to emphasize more recent rather than historical achievements. Mathematics, Natural Sciences, Engineering and Social Sciences were covered in this analysis.

Among the top 20 Universities, 17 are from the United States, with Harvard and Stanford leading the list. The only other Universities in this group are from the UK (Cambridge, #3 and Oxford, #8) and from Japan (Tokyo University, #14). The prevalence of the US colleges (85% among top 20, 51% among top 100%, and 34% among top 500) is without a doubt a result of the superior research funding situation in this country, which also allows US colleges to attract many of the best scientists from abroad.

Other countries, which made the top 100 besides the USA, UK, and Japan are Germany, Canada, France, Sweden, Switzerland, Netherlands, Australia, Italy, Israel, Denmark, Austria, Finland, Norway, and Russia. All other larger EU countries (both from West and East Europe) made the cut in the top 500. China follows Japan in the list of Asian countries. The fact that the leading Universities in China (Mainland) are ranked only among top 400, and the fact the National Taiwan University received a higher score, may be a good indication that the study was unbiased. South Korea, Singapore and India were the only other countries in East and South Asia mentioned in the report. Among Latin American nations, the ranking order is Brazil, Mexico, Argentina and Chile. South Africa is the only country in the African continent that has world-class colleges (4 of them made it into worldâ€™s top 500). 3 colleges from New Zealand were also on this list. Not a single University from predominantly Muslim countries was noted in the report even though these countries comprise over 20% of the worldâ€™s population.

Deja, nesugebejau rasti nei vieno LT universiteto tame sarase.

Å•is kinieciu profesoriaus Nian Cai Liu iÅ¡ Å•anhajaus Jiao Tong Universiteto bei jo kolegu ir studentu paruoÅ¡tas saraÅ¡as yra subjektyvus ir nera specialistu vertinamas kaip moksliniu faktu rinkinys.

JAV universitetu saraÅ¡as pagal valstijas: <http://u101.com/>

Geras alfabetinis saraÅ¡as yra: <http://www.studyoverseas.com/universitiesus.htm>

Gana autoritetingas ivertinimas pagal mokslo kokybe:

Galimas kelias neturtingiems bet labai gabiems, darbÅ½iams ir verÅ½liems lietuvaiciams: 1) istokite i bet kuri Community College Amerikoje (i juos lengva istoti ir mokslas juose labai pigus); 2) Po dviejÅ½ metu, ji uÅ½baige labai gerais paÅ½ymiais, be vargo persikelsite i viena iÅ½ tos pacios valstijos State University ar College treciaji kursa; 3) po dar dviejÅ½ metu gaukite B.S. ar B.A. laipsni Summa Cum Laude ar bent Magna Cum Laude, ir galesite siekti magistro bei daktaro laipsniu kad ir Ivy League ar kituose geriausiuose universitetuose. (Pastaba. Studijuodami laisvalaiki iÅ½naudokite ne pramogoms ir ne darbui, bet stipendiju pajieÅ½koms ir aplikacijoms. JAV yra stipendiju lobynai tiems, kurie ieÅ½ko ir siekia).

Puikiai Vladas1 viska parase, dekui.

Turiu viena pastabele. Siaip i tuos reitingus kazkaip emiau kreivai ziureti, nes esu (universiteto paieskos metu) panagrinejes ne viena tokia lentele, tame tarpe ir sia. Ivairiuose saltiniuose ir rezultatai skirtingi. Zinoma, geriausi sukasi auksciausiai, bet kas pirmas is ju, o kas 2 ar 5 ar 20 visur kiti rezultatai.

Zinoma, nereiketu kreipti demesio labai, kas butent tais metais pripazintas Geriausiu, bet vistiek uzkliuvo. Suprantu, kad vieni vertina labiau viena aspekta, kiti kita.

Rinkdamasis mokslo istaiga uzdavinejau sau tik 2 klausimus :

1. Kas is to (universiteto)
2. Kas po to (po baigimo)

Atsakius i siuos klausimus, gaunasi visai neblogai :)

Ivy League is the name generally applied to eight universities: Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Princeton, and Yale.

Atsimenu Jurcia minejo kad turejo keleta klasiu Harvarde:D As norejau paduoti dokumentus i Columbia Phd in I/O psy, bet siandien kaip tik pasisnekejau su Columbia atstovu per musu univero Graduate School_s day ir apsigalvojau, nes:

1. Ju I/O psichologijos PhD programa yra in Teacher_s College isnuki :lol:
2. Net ir PhD programoje jie nesuteikia full financial aid. ko noreti, tai siaip ar taip privatus universitetas.
3. ok, ok - itariu kad net ir su dideliu vidurkiu ir research experience neistociau. be to ir BA is state university :roll:
